EDITORIAL COMMENT

WE HAVE TURNED THE CORNER.

We have turned the corner. The dark days of adversity are fading away before the sunshine of prosperity. The news that comes each day is better than that of the day that went before.

The reason of it all is that the people throughout the land have arisen to assert themselves. The action of yesterday wherever an election was held showed that the people were determined to have the best and most stable government for themselves. In San Francisco there was a clean sweep for the forces of good government, and that means the establishment of confidence in the city. It means the restoration of the former order of things, more activity in building, in trading of all kinds, and it means further that the people of the East and abroad will put their money into the institutions of the city, that the banks will loosen up, and money will soon become plentiful.

In New York, where there was a holiday on account of the election, there were seven millions landed from Europe, and there are ten millions coming on the next steamer, and fourteen millions more to reach there before the end of the week. This is getting in our money from abroad with a vengeance. Secretary Cortelyou has announced that he will assist in moving the crops, which it is especially desired to get out of the country, that we may get the money in return.

The financiers have agreed that we have turned the corner. This does not mean that we are going to jump from the press of hard times into the sunshine of prosperity, but it does mean that the way has been brightened, and made considerably easier. Confidence has been restored and that is the main thing in the country. We were hurt, when things went to smash in the East, because the prices of our securities were reduced accordingly, and the time came when we could not get any price for them. When men must have money they will sacrifice anything for the dollars, and there was no end of sacrificing in the Nevada stocks. San Francisco is the mecca for our securities, and there was no market there for the reason that, following in the wake of the East, money there also became tight, and still continues so. But with the new conditions of things the danger has passed, and the clouds have been lifted. All through the country yesterday, the best of things were happening for the country's future prosperity. Let the wave of prosperity roll on.

VINCENT ST JOHN SHOT

♦ know him. He would naturally be opposed to the methods of ♦
♦ a man like St John, and he cordially disliked the man for the ♦
♦ odium he had brought upon the union.

♦ St John has a national reputation as an agitator of the West- ♦
♦ ern Federation, and he has a record that extends from the Coeur ♦
♦ d'Alenes to Cripple Creek, and from there to Goldfield. He has ♦
♦ been busy stirring up trouble here ever since he has made Gold- ♦
♦ field his residence, and is one of the men against whom an in- ♦ ♦ dictment has been brought as an accessory to the murder of the ♦ ♦ restaurant keeper murdered by Preston.

♦ A few weeks ago a vote was taken by the union on the proposi- ♦
♦ tion of declaring the Nevada Light and Power Company unfair, ♦
♦ which would have resulted in calling the members out of all the ♦
♦ mines where electricity is used. St John, was one of the greatest ♦
♦ agitators in this movement, and Mullany was one of those who ♦
♦ opposed it. The motion failed of carriage by a narrow margin, ♦
♦ and it is said that the matter was to have come up at the meeting ♦
♦ tonight, and that Randall, who declared the strike at Bishop, ♦
♦ was to have been called to account for his action.

♦ When St John was taken to the hospital, a loaded six-shooter ♦
♦ was found upon him, with every chamber full. At midnight he ♦
♦ was resting easy, and apparently but little the worse for his ♦ ♦ wounds.
